You are cordially invited to come celebrate your passion for stamps at America's next great international exhibition...

Historic Boston, Massachusetts will be hosting the next once-a-decade United States philatelic extravaganza over eight days from May 23-30, 2026.

It's America's special birthday that year; number 250 in fact. And we have at least that many reasons why it's not too soon to start making plans to come for a visit.

Won't you join us and a couple hundred thousand additional stamp collecting friends for perhaps a few days (or a week!) of fantastic philatelic events?

Events take place at the Boston Convention and Exposition Center in the Boston Waterfront District.

The Center is in South Boston at the hub of city activity and transportation. Nearby are the Boston Tea Party Museum, Freedom Trail, New England Aquarium, and much more!

- Dealers from around the world selling bargains to rarities
- Postal administrations with new issues and first day ceremonies
- Society meetings
- Hundreds of competitive exhibits
- An unrivaled Court of Honor
- Easy access from domestic and international destinations
- Convenient and affordable nearby hotels
